Annexation: How It Affects Daly City

Daly City will push its boundaries eastward in the next two weeks when the annexation of the inhabited portion of Bayshore City is virtually complete.

The City Council Monday night held the second reading of an ordinance formally adding the unincorporated area to the second largest city in San Mateo county.

At the end of these two weeks, the city's governmental agencies will initiate services to some 4000 new residents in the annexed area.

The fire, police and public works departments will start the wheels turning to initiate a smooth integration of Bayshore into Daly City.

The city will undoubtedly suffer some growing pains in the expansion. But according to the department heads of the affected agencies, the pains do not come without readily available remedies.

The city fathers considered the pains before they initiated action to annex the area in February. The annexation means more than just adding 4000 people and a big chunk of land.

Daly City has its eyes on the eventual annexation of the nationally famous Crocker Industrial Park and the huge Crocker lands.

The annexation of Bayshore City puts Daly City on three sides of the Crocker lands, an important bargaining point in eventual talks with the Crocker developers.

Brisbane and South San Francisco also have eyes on the lands for industrial and residential development.

The annexed area in Bayshore will add approximately $4.5 million in assessed valuation to Daly City's present $60 million.

The annexation also will provide Daly City with a more diversified tax base—with several major industries in the new area and room for more.

Some of the major firms, are Crown Cork and Seal company, S & W Foods incorporated and Alta Coffee company.

City Finance Director Joseph Arch said last week the annexation could have an effect on the city's tax rate next year, depending on expenditures to bring Bayshore's services up to the standard in Daly City.

"We look to at least break even," Arch said.

The city will spend approximately $55,000 from its general reserve fund right away for Bayshore's present 10-men fire force, five more policemen and new equipment to service the area, he said.

Daly City will receive an estimated $85,000 in sales, gas, motor vehicle license and alcoholic beverage taxes because of the annexation.

And when Bayshore's assessed valuation of $4.5 million is added to Daly City's rolls next year, the city will receive another $74,000.

A supplemental budget will have to be set up by the city council to take care of the area for the remainder of the current fiscal year, Arch explained.

The annexation also means that Daly City will be the scene of the 1964 National Republican Convention, which will be held at the Cow Palace—now located in Bayshore City.

BY ELEMENTARY BOARD

Roosevelt School Annex Considered

Action Would Bypass Land Trade Deadlock

By DON MILLER

Trustees of the Jefferson Elementary school district Monday night decided to explore the possibility of bypassing the stalemated land trade between Daly City and Pacifica and seek annexation of the new Franklin D. Roosevelt school site to Daly City.

The school now is located in the extreme northwestern portion of Pacifica on land involved in the proposed trade.

The two cities have been unable to agree on just how much land they want to trade.

Trustees of the district are concerned because installation of permanent facilities—such as electricity, street lighting, roads and sewers—must await the outcome of negotiations between the two cities.

The district is working on plans for a temporary tie-in with the facilities of the North San Mateo Sanitation district, located in Daly City.

Monday night, District Superintendent Richard L. Foster suggested that the board consider annexation of the Roosevelt school site to Daly City.

"I think this would get us out of any problems," he commented.

Board President Thomas F. Noonan said he believed the law provided for a school district to seek such annexation.

"After all," he observed, "if Daly City kids are going to be going to this school, it should be in Daly City."

Trustee Mrs. Katherine R. McMullen asked if annexation would mean the school contractors would be able to give the district the services it needed.

Foster replied that it would.

Trustee O. Wayne Douglas observed that school opens in September and that "I think we ought to look into it (annexation) right away."

The board then voted to authorize Foster to explore the annexation possibilities.

In other action, the board voted to authorize a five cent tax on district property to finance a new health insurance program for employes.

Under law, the district is empowered to levy such a tax. It will be added to the $2.50 per $100 of assessed valuation that property owners now pay.

Foster reported that the tax would bring in about $38,000. The district is now working together with an insurance carrier on a new plan.

Douglas, who has been working with the carrier on details, report-

Land Bought For Daly City Street Plan

By RON BATES

The Daly City council came one step closer Monday to obtaining full rights of way for its ambitious $500,000 Knowles-Los Banos street project when one of four remaining "holdouts" agreed to the city's price.

The council also took the last legislative act in the annexation of Bayshore City with the second reading of an ordinance authorizing the annexation.

With the second reading of the ordinance, a 30-day period must elapse before Bayshore City formally becomes a part of Daly City, according to City Attorney Paul Hupf.

The city had entered into condemnation proceedings on four properties on the major street project.

In Monday's action, the council accepted the deed of Dessie Garry and Issac Moore at 25 Los Banos street and authorized payment.

Of the three remaining owners, two have indicated to Hupf they were willing to discuss the city's offer.

The third property owner wants double what the city has

WILLARD and Hazel Wagner of 139 Crestwood drive are among the mainstays of the Daly City Senior Citizens group that meets regularly in the social hall of the Community Baptist church of Westlake.

Wagner, with the calm efficiency of a man who has spent his life managing and directing, plays the piano and manages the money and the books for the club while his wife, with her warm smile and retiring nature, makes others feel welcome and as if they are of special importance.

Together, they make an ideal combination — an observation given credence by the fact they have been married 43 years.

Like most senior citizens today, they lead active lives. When Wagner retired in 1958, they left their home in Antioch and moved to San Mateo county (where three generations of Wagners have lived) and es-

AFTER CLOSED SESSION

Contract Given For Leak Repair

Following a prolonged meeting in closed session with an attorney, trustees of the Jefferson High school board voted Monday to award a $29,305 contract to Cooper Brothers, Inc. for repair work on Westmoor High School's defective hot water heating system.

Superintendent Edward Morgan said the closed session concerned details of the meeting last week between school officials, the district attorney, Westmoor contractor, and a representative of the plumbing manufacturer, who flew out from Cincinnati.

Morgan said that as lawyer-client matters are kept confidential, details of the meeting would not be revealed in view of possible litigation.

A contract for a more complete overhauling of the underground heating system at a cost of $52,273 was not awarded by the trustees pending further developments.

In a previous letter to the district attorney C. L. Howshaw of the Philip Carey company, manufacturers of the defective system, said that while they did not consider themselves liable, they would "from a sales policy standpoint be willing to assume some mutually agreeable share of the cost of insulating a redesigned system."

Repair Work

Morgan assured trustees Monday night that the repair work on the Westmoor system to be done by Cooper Brothers will be completed before the opening of the school in September.

The repair work, installing overhead piping in one section of the school, will replace service to the cafeteria and kitchen.

In further study of the Westmoor defective heating system, trustees were told that a laboratory examination of the pipe's waterproof membrane indicates that the asphalt coating was "not initially applied in certain areas in a generally accepted proper manner."

An engineer's report was submitted to trustees indicating that seepage water discovered at 1219 Emerson drive could not have come from Westmoor's leaky heating system.

In other action Monday night, Jefferson trustees awarded a $106,218 contract to Bernard Gayman company for construction of playing fields and athletic equipment at Jefferson High School. Daly City has agreed to contribute $13,000 in the cost of the project. The area will be used for city recreational program.

Guard Rails To Be Asked Near Schools

Highway guard rails and a reflector will be sought for roads near three Jefferson Elementary school district buildings, trustees of the district decided Monday night.

Authorities will be asked to install:

A guard rail on Skyline boulevard near Christopher Columbus school.

A large reflector at the end of Lausanne street where it intersects Chester street near Upper Colma school.

A guard rail on Garden lane near Garden lane school.

The trustees decided to ask for the protective devices after a report was given by Superintendent Richard L. Foster and after Trustee O. Wayne Douglas had raised the subject.

Foster said a guard rail on Skyline would prevent runaway autos from hurtling over the road em-

White Street Plea Readied

A superior court decision permitting San Mateo county to extend White street through Jefferson Elementary school district property will be appealed.

Thomas F. Noonan, president of the district's board of trustees, said Monday night the attorney for the district has been instructed to file appeal papers.

The superior court decision was handed down June 18 after a two-day trial.

It permits the county to extend White street through land between the Benjamin Franklin and Garden Village schools.

District officials have contended the land has been used as a playground and that this use has priority over a street.

War Bunkers May Be Used

The old World War II U. S. Army coastal defense bunkers near the NIKE missile base in Pacifica may have some new tenants if the Pacifica council approves the new police department budget requests.

The police and fire departments got their budget requests aired before a budget session of the council Monday night with the largest item of the $29,609 police increase a $25,000 slice to pay for leasing the bunkers.

These, Mayor Harold Feyge explained, would become police and civilian defense emergency headquarters and on standby basis in case of a national emergency or disaster.

The estimated police budget for the 1963-64 fiscal year is $198,111, compared to $168,502 last year. The fire department budget request was for $170,472, an increase of $18,214 over the $152,258 of last year.

PACIFICA COMMISSION

Stand on Police, Fire Unit Voiced

A leading proponent of a police and fire commission for Pacifica said last week he was disappointed at the decision of a citizens' study committee to vote against it.

He added, however, he was satisfied the committee had done a thorough job.

Dan Martin, who signed a petition to the city council several months ago proposing such a commission, said he wished only that the committee members had understood his proposal better.

Martin said a police and fire commission was intended to be a purely advisory group—such as the Park, Beach and Recreation commission — and not a regulatory body.

The seven-man committee, appointed by the city council to study the matter, last week decided a commission would weaken and dilute law enforcement and subject police and fire departments to political pressures.

August 5, the committee will present a report in which each member will summarize his own reasons for opposing a commission. A joint report will then be prepared for the city council.

Committee members have rounded up data collected from

ABOUT THOSE DREAM GIRL CHARGES:

It's Not So, Louisa Says

(Earlier Story, Page 5)

Fiesta Dream Girl Louisa Borcherding vows that the charges that she violated contest rules in winning the dream girl competition last week are false.

The 17-year-old winner of the Fair and Floral Fiesta Dream Girl contest was charged with violating the rules specifying that there be "no stays and no padding inside the bathing suits" of contestants.

The complaint was in a letter from Mrs. Gene Bertolacci, a member of the Half Moon Bay Chamber of Commerce contest committee, to the fair management.

Mrs. Bertolacci demanded that Miss Borcherding be disqualified. She said that Hope Choate, assistant to the fair manager, showed some girls how to use adhesive tape inside their suits to "acquire greater uplift."

Another story was given by Mrs. Choate. She said that after the built-in bras had been cut from some swim suits, the adhesive was used inside the suit to tape down the frayed edges because "there was no time to sew them."

"I definitely did not tell the girls how to use the tape," Mrs. Choate insisted. She said she brought the tape and needles and thread into the room and told the contestants they could use either to hold in the ruffled edges of their suits.

Furthermore, she said, "Miss San Mateo did not use the tape. There were witnesses to that in the room.

"I did tell them if they would stand up straight, pull their tummies and rears in, and stick out their chests, they would get the same effect as with built-in bras," Mrs. Choate admitted.

Instructor Is Arrested

A half-fainting, incoherent woman staggered into the Pacifica police station Monday morning at 8:15 with a tale of criminal assault and terror that resulted in a music instructor of the Laguna Salada Union school district of Pacifica being arrested and police searching for his purported accomplice.

Out on $1000 bail was 38-year-old Boyd Johnson, a Laguna Salada school district music instructor.

It was the woman's own presence of mind, despite her bat-

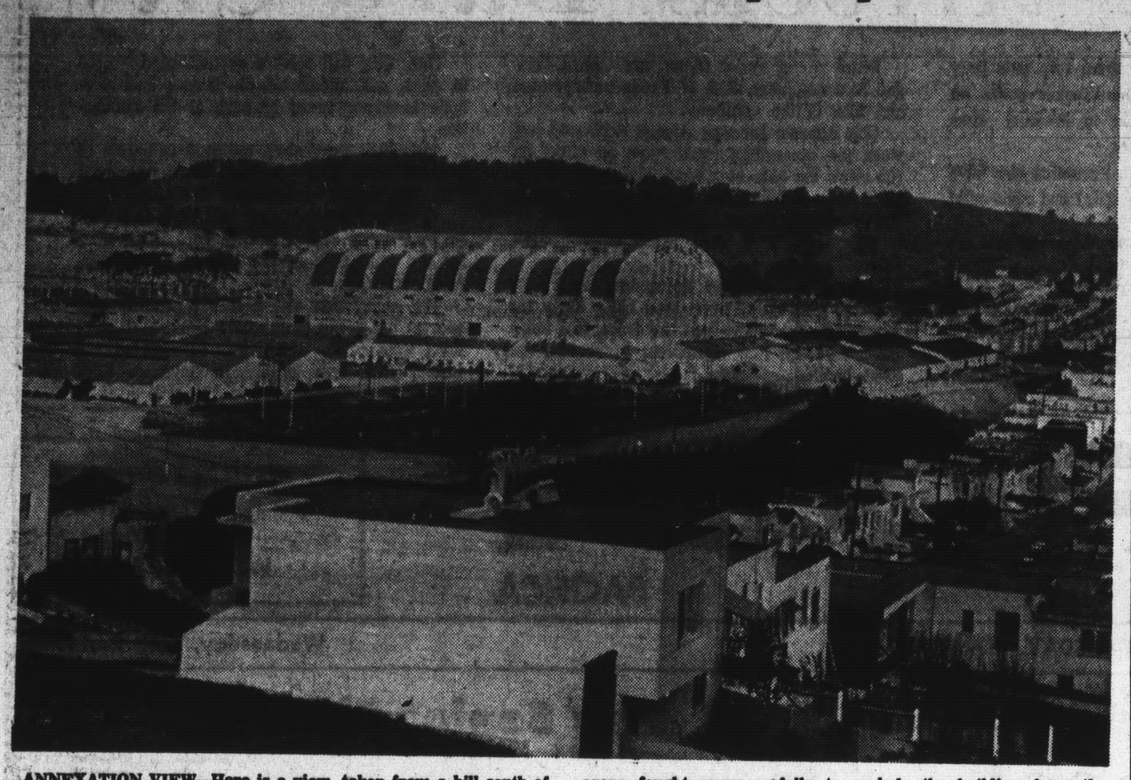
A Future Part of Daly City



ANNEXATION VIEW—Here is a view, taken from a hill south of Bayshore City, of part of the area to be annexed to Daly City. Dominating the scene is the Cow Palace. Directors of the huge arena fought unsuccessfully to exclude the building from the annexation.

(Post-Times photo)

What Annex Means

10 Bayshore Firefighters To Join D.C.

The first step in the integration of the Bayshore Fire department into Daly City's firefighting force will be taken August 13 by the residents of Bayshore.

A special election of the dissolution of the Bayshore Fire Protection district will be held then. If the vote is affirmative, the integration will begin.

Daly City Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy says absorption of the fire district will be an easy one.

The fire alarm system, fire insurance rating, state retirement plan and a 63-hour week are the same in both departments, he said.

With the dissolution of the Bayshore Fire department, the 10 men will be added to Daly City's department. No other men will be added because of the annexation, Kennedy said.

The Bayshore fire station at 3001 Geeneva avenue will become the fourth full-time fire station in the Daly City fire system.

Bayshore Chief Herbert Ritzmann, a key figure in the annexation move as chairman of the Bayshore Citizens' Committee, will join Daly City as a battalion chief.

Ritzmann was assistant chief of Lodi before accepting his present position in Bayshore City.

Ritzmann and Kennedy already have met on integrating the two systems. A meeting is scheduled among officials of both departments to organize training sessions.

Kennedy said the Bayshore department uses the same training manuals, from the California Department of Education and Oklahoma A & M as Daly City does.

Equipment in the Bayshore district is similar to Daly City's.

Included are a 1961 La France truck with a 75-foot aerial ladder, a 1954 General Motors truck, a 1949 Mack truck and a 1957 Ford pickup, which Ritzmann has been using as a chief's car.

New Road Is Planned to Join Areas

Daly City will be a disjointed two segments when the Bayshore annexation is complete.

A resident will have to drive into San Francisco in order to get from one segment to the other.

But the county may solve this problem, officials explain.

The county is planning a road from the foot of Market street near Colma school to the portion of the San Bruno mountain known as "the saddle," City Engineer William Chapman said.

Carter street in Bayshore would probably have to be extended to reach the road, he said. The street would help siphon off traffic from the Cow Palace area in peak traffic periods.

The Market street extension was included in the county road plan that was rejected by voters in June. The county, however, is planning to use the road proposals as a county master plan.

Mayor Joseph Verducci said a road connecting the two sections is not planned in the immediate future. He said, however, the city has long-range plans for a connecting road.

"The street cleaning standards in (Bayshore) are definitely not up to the standards of Daly City," Chapman said. "We will take immediate steps to remedy that."

"The people of Bayshore probably won't see us because we'll be cleaning at 4 a.m.," he added.

The Public Works department will begin building inspector services immediately to the annexed area.

The water needs of the people of Bayshore are served by the Dimond Utility district, which buys its water from San Francisco on a metered rate.

The Dimond district may be absorbed by Daly City with billing handled by the city's finance department, Chapman said.

The absorption would not affect Daly City's five-year improvement program, he explained.

Police Will Add 5 Men For Patrol

Daly City's Police Chief Roland Petrocchi doesn't foresee any unsurmountable problems with the annexation of Bayshore City, even though no road exists between the two areas.

"The Sheriff's office handled the problems over there quite well and I think we can do the same," Petrocchi said.

The Police department will add five new men and one police car to service the area. The five men would give the department an additional man per shift — with two men to cover days off, vacation and sick leaves.

A new beat will be set up to cover the area, Petrocchi said.

No sub-station is anticipated, he said, because of the record system that has been set up in the Daly City headquarters.

Under this system, after an investigation a police officer dials a special number at the station and dictates his report, which is tape recorded. A clerk typist later types up the report from the tape

"There is no need for the officer to come back to the station," he said.

If a major crime occurs and an officer needs assistance, the chief anticipates no problem because of the lack of a road.

"It would take the same amount of time to get from the Crocker tract in the older section of town to Westlake Terrace as it would to get from the station to Bayshore," Petrocchi said.

The chief anticipates some problems with the Cow Palace—but not enough to worry about.

"Any place that caters to 10,000 to 20,000 persons is bound to present problems," he said. "But not problems that can't be controlled."

The groups using the Cow Palace for events pay for additional officers required for protection.

The sheriff's deputy auxiliary force has been providing officers for special duty on the Cow Palace grounds and has indicated it will continue to supply officers for events upon request.

bankment and over a fence around the Christopher Columbus school area below.

He reported that the playground at Upper Colma school is "in slight danger" from runaway cars traveling northwest on Lausanne. A large reflector is needed there, he added.

Regarding Garden Lane school, Foster said there is a "possibility of entry into the school building by an auto traveling west on Garden lane.

"If complete safety is required, a fence or guard rail should be placed on the west side of the school parking lot," he said.

Douglas urged the board to press the State Highway commission for a guard rail on Skyline, which he termed the most critical safety need of the three schools under discussion.

tered condition yesterday morning, that led to Johnson's arrest by Pacifica police. Not knowing where she was, having been assertedly transported by force to Pacifica from San Francisco the night before, she found a book of checks in the kitchen of Johnson's apartment and tore one out.

It had the name and address, which were all police needed. The victim signed the complaint against Johnson and his accomplice.

Johnson was taken to San Mateo county jail by sheriff's deputy William McKeon and booked on two attack charges.

offered, Hupf said. "But I don't anticipate any long controversy over the property."

The city also accepted the deed of a one-foot strip of land running several feet down Knowles street from Mission street.

The original owners of the one-foot strip are deceased, Hupf said. In the transfer of properties through the years, the strip was omitted from the deed of properties which the original owners sold, he said.

The Knowles-Los Banos street project is being planned in conjunction with the new Junipero Serra freeway. Demolition of the homes is scheduled to begin in October and actual construction in January.

The two streets will be expanded, made one-way and will tie in with the freeway. The project is designed to expedite traffic between the two main Daly City thoroughfares, Mission street and Junipero Serra boulevard.

The council accepted "with regret" the resignation of Mrs. Albert from the Daly City Library commission.

Mrs. Albert resigned her post "due to ill health." She was replaced on the commission by Helen Staub.

The council also reappointed four people whose terms expire July 31. They are:

Mrs. Gertrude Kendree to the library commission for a term of three years.

Melford Battye, to the personnel board for a term of six years.

Anthony Masini and McRobert Stewart for the planning commission for terms of three years.

Pacifica to Wage Fight On Rubbish

Pacifica city council will hold a public hearing tonight on a proposed resolution declaring the existence of weeds, rubbish, refuse, and dirt upon private property a public nuisance.

The ordinance is planned to put extra teeth into the city's clean-up campaigns. The fire department would be allowed to burn weeds on vacant lots and charge property owners.

Also on tonight's agenda is the award of the city's legal advertising contract for the coming year. In a previous vote, the council split two to two on awarding the contract to the low bidder, The Coastside News.

(See Earlier Story, Page 13)

A report from the Park, Beach and Recreation department on the status of the city's hiking and riding trails will be presented.

Members of the San Mateo county Horsemen's association have offered to prepare and post riding trails within the city limits.

Plans call for the grading of trails by the middle of August—with signs to be installed thereafter.

A trail map will be prepared and distributed to local riding groups and stables.

Councilmen previously asked commissioners for action in keeping horseback riders on the trails and off city streets.

City Manager Karl Baldwin will report to the council on the acquisition of park sites in the Fairmont subdivision.

To date, 23 acres of greenbelt and two acres of park site have been deeded to the city.

Pacifica has also received a $27,500 installment on $110,000 promised by builder Henry Doelger as part of his agreement with the city.

Meet the Wagners

tablished a new pattern for their time.

Wagner turned to music, which had always been a part of his life. He now teaches up to ten piano students each week. Mrs. Wagner found new markets for the lovely dolls that she has been making professionally for some time.

"When our girls were at home I sewed seriously for them almost all the time. But I just stopped for a time," Mrs. Wagner explained.

"Then I became very ill and during the long convalescent period I became nervous because of the inactivity. The doctor told me I would have to find a hobby to keep my mind and fingers busy so I took up sewing again.

"I obtained a license and I went into the doll making business. It gave me something to think about and the time passed more quickly when I was sewing. I have continued to make the dolls and I have a large variety of styles and types."

Among the most popular dolls are her gay little clowns in their multi-colored costumes and the floppy Raggedy Anns and Raggedy Andys.

THOUGH the Wagners are very much citizens of the present, their lives are filled with memories that enrich their own appreciation for life and that reflect upon those who have contact with them.

In their Westlake apartment Wagner keeps a little brown ledger in which are recorded the names of enough stars of yesterday to constitute a virtual who's who of the vaudeville era.

Beside each name is a date and the record of the sum Wagner paid the star to appear on the stage of the El Campanil theater in Antioch.

While Wagner was managing the theater, he brought Dean Mattox, (Buddah), Pat Henning, Pinky Lee, the O'Connor family, Donald O'Connor, the Floyd Ray Band, Edie Anderson (Rochester), the Arnout Brothers, Roscoe Ates, Smiley Burnett, Ben Blue, Sally Rand and company, the Boswell Sisters, Trixie Friganza, Billy Barty and the King Sisters to the entertainment-hungry community.

Edgar Bergen and Charley McCarthy, Tommy Harris, (now of restaurant fame), the Duncan Sisters, Eddie Peabody, Ann Rutherford, Barbara Hale, Roy Rogers, Jack Carson, Bea and Ray Gorman and Paul Whitman and his orchestra all traveled to Antioch to appear in the weekly Sunday Vaudeville show.

So did Ella Fitzgerald and her band, Henry Busse and his band, Lionel Hampton and his band, the Three Stooges, Peg Leg Bates, the Vagabonds, Long Tack Sam and company, Jane and Katherine Lee Clara Kimball Young, Red Nichols and the Five Pennies, Flo Mayo and Patsy the Horse, Carl Ravaza and his band, Irene Ryan (of the Beverly Hillbillies) with Ryan and Noblette, Herb Shriner, Virginia Weidler, Ray Noble and his band and Jackie Coogan.

Such performers as Carmen and Roland Dragon, Marshall Cramm, Bill Wagner, Clarence Formweld, Howard Saures and Norm Rouner all had their initial stage appearances on a program booked by Wagner.

Cal and Al Pearce made their first stage appearance with the Blue Monday Jamboree on the stage of the El Campanil.

When Wagner retired as manager, booking agent, buyer and advertising man of the Stamm chain of theaters in 1959, he wrote an end to a career that began when he was only 17 and could play a handful of tunes on a piano.

DOES THE FUTURE scene dull to a couple who have done so much and know so many interesting people? Far from it!

"We try to keep our activities down so that we may have time to visit with our children and our grandchildren. We have four grandchildren in Concord, three in Modesto and three in San Francisco," Wagner explained with pride.

"I've just taken up bowling," Mrs. Wagner announced with a soft laugh.

agencies, public officials, reports of experiences in other cities, and textbooks on municipal administration to support their conviction the council should not create a commission.

They have said that in their opinion, there was no evidence that a police and fire commission would benefit Pacifica in any way.

Both Pacifica's police chief Neil Tremain and Fire Chief Ed Greer have opposed the forming of a commission.

Martin said that in his opinion, the police and fire commission could still make recommendations on policy matters and not interfere with the running of the departments.

He commented that, though disappointed, he was certainly not mad or bitter and that "the important thing was we were heard"—that the council had appointed a committee to give the matter serious study.

Noonan pointed out that the five-cent levy would not be a fixed rate and that the district might be able to reduce it after some experience with the insurance plan.

Prior to their meeting, trustees toured recently-finished additional classrooms for Colma school.

At the meeting, the board then voted to issue a certificate of completion, releasing funds held in escrow (pending building completion) to the contractor.

Coast Asks For Nuclear Plant

The chambers of commerce of three coastside communities have invited the Pacific Gas and Electric company to relocate its nuclear generating plant in San Mateo county.

Noting PG&E's troubles in building the plant at Bodega Bay the chambers of commerce of Pacifica, Half Moon Bay, and Princeton By the Sea sent out a letter of welcome.

The letter was signed by Mario Torrigino, Pacifica; Ed Sousa, Half Moon Bay, and Rex Thomas, Princeton, presidents of their chambers. The letter said the subject had been discussed in each of the chambers and that the invitation represented unanimous agreement of the leadership of the three groups.

Fitness Important in Curriculum

By RON BATES

PHYSICAL FITNESS jumped back into the headlines recently with a 50-mile hike craze, started by a comment from President John F. Kennedy.

Almost overnight, hikers flooded the nation's highways and blistered feet, exhaustion and general physical breakdowns became the general rule.

"The 50-mike hikes were without purpose," says Dennis Huajardo, consultant on physical education for the Jefferson Elementary School district.

"In the district's program, we are striving to have the children learn why they are doing exercises," he observes. "If they know why, then the chances of them continuing are greater."

There are several misconceptions about physical fitness today, Huajardo says. A person's ability to throw a football or baseball or do pullups and pushups is no guarantee that he is physically fit.

"We want our children to be of sound health so that they'll be able to face the tasks before them today and in the future with optimum vitality and efficiency."

Stress in the schools on regular visits to medical advisors and dentists, on good nutritional diet, and on proper rest and relaxation is part of the overall program.

"Medical people, as a whole, agree that the body needs a certain amount of exercise to keep the body functioning efficiently day by day and increase the probability of longer life," he adds, outlining this three-point program for good overall health:

FIRST — Keep the heart and circulatory system in good shape.

"Exercises that strengthen heart and circulatory systems are essential. Heart disease is a prime killer."

That heart is a muscle that needs to be exercised like any other muscle to work at top efficiency. The type of activity depends on the individual and health status at the time.

Huajardo suggests walking briskly, erectly, sharply and more.

"It does a lot of good for you."

SECOND — Stress on posture must be given.

A person needs to do the kind of exercise that will stretch as well as strengthen muscle groups that are important in maintaining a proper posture.

"Poor posture increases the probability of aches and pains in later life and also makes for efficient breathing," he says. "Inefficient breathing, in turn, taxes the heart in its job of moving blood throughout the body."

Everybody needs exercise of a degree that will strengthen the heart and improve the efficiency of the circulation system.

"Beyond this point, any other activity that develops strength, speed, endurance, agility, flexibility and co-ordination will depend on what an individual wishes to prepare for."

Huajardo cautions against overdevelopment of one set of muscles to the detriment of an opposing set.

"Overdevelopment of the chest muscles, without comparable strengthening of the back muscles, will force the shoulders forward, resulting in an undesirable curved back or rounded shoulders."

THIRD—Stress is placed on leisure time.

"Our children are provided with a knowledge of activities of both a physical and mental nature. One of the most important things people should know is how to effectively use their leisure time for recuperative values."

These activities, he explained, should be done not because it will make them feel good, but because they enjoy it.

By means of achievement tests, the district is attempting to identify those children who need more instruction and encouragement in specific areas.

"Those not meeting prescribed standards in these areas are given remedial activity to help them achieve better performances," Huajardo explains.

In the lower grades, the children use games such as hopscotch, jump rope, and running games to develop fitness.

The non-athlete generally avoids the recreational opportunities of an athletic nature offered in the community.

One reason is that the athlete is the one who takes advantage of what the community has available. A boy that plays baseball well is generally the one who will go out for the community teams.

"We have a tendency to do the things we do well rather than the things we don't do well," Huajardo notes.

EXERCISE AREA — This is the playground at Colma school, an important facility in the physical edueation program of the Jefferson Elementary school district. Youngsters here are playing on exercise bars and monkey bars.

GOING UP—This Jefferson Elementary school district pupil threads his way upward through jungle bars at the Colma school playground. District officials say pupils are taught the "whys" behind exercises.

WAITS ON STATE

Laguna Draws Up Tentative Budget

Still waiting to see what the state legislature is going to do about school aid, the Laguna Salada Union School district nevertheless draws up some tentative figures for the budget of the 1963-64 fiscal year.

The budget is testimated to be about $2,725,000, but no final figure has been set yet, Superintendent Fred Lucas told the trustees.

Public hearings will be held on the budget August 6, with final adoption coming after the legislature has made its move.

The present budget makes no provisions for salary increases for teachers, staff or district employes, Lucas emphasized.

The board decided to assess the full $2.45 operating tax per $100 assessed valuation presently allowed and laid out guidelines for how much in overlay taxes in addition to the regular assessment, would be needed.

The overlay taxes include: Community use, five cents; mandatory teacher retirement tax, five cents; mandatory classified employe retirement, 10-12 cents (enough to raise $32,127); meals for needy students one or two cents (enough to raise $3700); education for mentally retarded, four to six cents (to raise $14,720); public school building loan payments and state school building loan payments about 45 cents.

District Adds Office Space And Library

A teachers' library and more office space for Laguna Salada school district officials are under construction next to the district's Vallemar headquarters.

The $238,025 building project, which uses state school building loan funds, is due to be completed about the first of October.

The teachers' library, formally called an instructional materials center, will house supplementary textbooks to be used by the districts' teachers from all schools on a rotation basis.

Laguna Salada administrator, Robert Fizer explained that the library will help the district get more use out of textbooks and keep the teachers better supplied without adding substantially to the district's book supply.

The library also will contain film strpis, illustrative material, photographs and movie films for use by the teachers. In charge will be Douglas Clark, who is the district's instructional materials consultant.

Also under construction this summer is an addition to the school district's administration building at 375 Reina del Mar.

The addition, which will include a board room and a large general office area, replaces an old house behind the main building, used as a storeroom annex.

Fizer said the present offices built in 1957 are inadequate to house the district's expanded central staff, wiich includes five staff administrative officials, four selors, a psychologist and fifteen clerical personnel.

Fireman Hurt as Flames Sweep Through D. C. Home

A Daly City firefighter was injured as a two-alarm fire swept through the home of Alfred Saraceni at 878 Templeton avenue last Tuesday night.

The fireman, Robert Hourigan, was treated at Kaiser Foundation hospital for ear burns and a wrenched back.

Battalion Chief Wayne Alexander estimated the fire damage at $15,000.

He said flames started in the rear of the house — either in a kitchen or bedroom — and destroyed this part of the building.

Saraceni said he was on the roof of the house, adjusting a television antenna, when the flames broke out. Two young children were sleeping in a bedroom.

Mrs. Saraceni was in the living room talking to a visitor when she smelled smoke and alerted her husband. They gathered their children and fled the house.

Alexander reported that the flames spread to a neighboring house at 884 Templeton and caused an estimated $1000 damage.

Firemen entered the home and moved furniture away from a wall. Some water damage also was reported in the home.

BURGLARY REPORTED

Thelma F. Abrahamson of 50 San Joaquin avenue reported to Daly City police last week that thieves had stolen a stereo set, jewelry and bank books from her home.

Pacifican Is Injured

Dan Martin of 195 Surf street, Pacifica, was convalescing at St. Francis hospital in San Francisco this week from injuries sustained in a three-car pileup on the Bay Bridge.

Martin was entering the tunnel on the bridge, he said, when the motorist ahead of him signaled to slow down.

While he was also signaling with his arm and slowing, his car was hit from behind in a chain reaction sequence that involved three cars.

Knocked unconscious, he suffered a badly sprained shoulder and whiplash injury.

A private investigator, he is a longtime coastside resident and has been active in community affairs, including service as president of the Sharp Park P-TA and chairman of the city's drainage study committee.

VFW Appoints D.C. Resident

Amel Glaser of 767 St. Francis boulevard, Daly City, has been appointed as national aide-de-camp to the commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The appointment was announced by the commander-in-chief, Byron B. Gentry of Pasadena. Gentry said Glaser will serve as a personal representative.

Nattily Dressed Gunman Holds Up St. Clair Store

A smooth-operating, nattily-dressed gunman Friday night held up a liquor store owned by Daly City councilman and San Francisco 49er star Bob St. Clair.

The robber escaped with $376 in currency.

Held up was St. Clair's store at 7144 Mission street in Daly City. St. Clair also operates a liquor store in the Westlake Shopping center and another in San Francisco.

The robber waved an automatic pistol at George Sales, 42, of San Francisco, a clerk in the Mission street store, and announced:

"This is it. Gimme all your bills. Stack your bills right here. If you make a move, I'll blow your head off.

Sales told Daly City Patrolman Neil Hammerman that the gunman had crouched in front of his counter, out of sight, after entering the store about 10:30 p.m.

The clerk said he was in the rear of the store at the time. When Sales returned to the store front, the robber suddenly stood up and demanded money.

The clerk said the gunman was sharply dressed in Ivy league clothes and a hat.

After scooping up the money, the robber took out a handkerchief and carefully wiped the top of the counter and the area of the floor he had crouched on, Sales told Hammerman.

Ironically, Hammerman had cruised by the liquor store only a few moments before the holdup took place, he said later.

For County Fiesta

Dream Girl Is Crowned

The exception that proves the rule—gave Miss San Mateo, Louisa Borcherding — the coveted crown of Fiesta Dream Girl, 1963, last week during the twenty-ninth annual Fair and Floral Fiesta Dream Girl Contest which placed 13 lovelies in the running.

The exception to the proven rule was that Louisa "sort of" disobeyed her dad—San Mateo Detective Sergeant John Borcherding (with her mom's approval).

Her father had not wanted her to enter the contest orginally, because he was afraid the disappointment of losing would be too hard on her. And Louisa herself had commented, "I'll never win—there are so many really pretty girls. . ."

But when Detective Sergeant Borcherding, currently on vacation from the police department, went to visit his 80-year-old mother in New York, Louisa, Mrs. Borcherding, her sister and grandmother discussed the situation at the family home, 1674 Fiesta drive, they agreed, "Why not!"

As a result of her entry, Louisa won the San Mateo city beauty queen crown hands down — and went on to capture the county Dream Girl throne.

Last week amid hugs, kisses and a few tears, Louisa smiled delightedly when her father teased, "Now I suppose I'll be known as Miss Dream Girl's dad—."

Friends of the family reported Louisa comes by her beauty quite naturally — her statuesque mother was one of Billy Rose's Aquacade beauties a few years ago.

Besides presiding over the forthcoming Fair and Floral Fiesta Friday through August 10, Louisa will enter the Maid of California competition representing the county, and the forthcoming days, weeks and months will be filled with various assignment during which she will officially be the county's hostess.

LOUISA BORCHERDING, Miss San Mateo, flashes a winning smile after being named the 1963 San Mateo county Fair and Floral Fiesta Dream Girl last week. Miss Borcherding won the title in stiff competition over 11 other candidates, including Miss Daly City (Claudia Smith) and Miss Pacifica (Sandra Finley). The 1963 Dream Girl will preside over fair festivities and will represent the county in this year's Maid of California contest at Sacramento.

Judges were unanimous in their decision. They included Diana Burgess, Saks Fifth avenue, Pat Mason, Mason-Kahn dance studio, Ed Perea, Sears, Roebuck and company, Glenn Ranson, Peninsula Newspapers, Inc., Jay Smith, Sunnyvale Standard.

Winning last night's contest gave the county's new Dream Girl an expensive three-costume wardrobe from Macy's-Hillsdale with accesseries, a course at the House of Charm in San Francisco, preparing her for her Sacramento, Maid of California competition.

The California Jockey club through its president Joseph Cohen presented her with a $250 scholarship.

The other participants also outstanding in their charms and personality included Signe Ann Yager, Belmont; Sharon Fisher, Brisbane; Sheryll Riveness, Burlingame; Claudia Smith, Daly City; Joyce Passetti, Half Moon Bay, Barbara Apgar, Menlo-Atherton; Sandra Olson, Millbrae; Sandra Finlay, Pacifica; Peggy Ament, Redwood City; Betsy Ann Ross, San Bruno; Donna Harding, San Carlos, and Linda Berry, South San Francisco.

They will all serve as Maids of Honor to the Dream Girl.

THEFT REPORTED

Muriele N. Pabst of 132 Oliver street, Daly City, reported to police last week that thieves broke into her bedroom and stole money, jewelry and a radio, valued at a total of $60.

Jerrold F. Rosenberg of 191 Huntington drive, Daly City, is attending a summer institute in high school mathematics at Wayne State university in Detroit.

The institute is sponsored by the National Science Foundation. It will run through August 16.

Laguna Sets A Summer Open House

Open House of the Saguna Salada School district's summer school will be held tomorrow at Linda Mar school and next Wednesday at Pacific Manor Roy Carver.

Carver announced that parents of 759 summer school pupils will be invited to view texts and materials being used in the summer session and to see projects completed by students.

The primary grade units have been preparing projects on these subjects: homes, clothing, Arctic communities and the American heritage.

Grades 3 to 8 will display work in art, creative writing, science, and literature.

All classrooms will be open and teachers will be on hand to talk to parents. Last year, 300 parents attended the open houses and a similar response is expected this year.

Carver told Laguna Salada school trustees last week that the summer school dropout rate has been less than last year and that he expects the session will be able to break even on expenses.

Of 810 summer school students enrolled, Carver said only 51 have dropped out.

The daily absentee rate has ranged from 3 per cent to 8 per cent, he said, with an unusually high amount of illness this year.

Daly City Gets Award

Daly City has received a citation from the American Automobile association for not having a single pedestrian fatality during 1962.

The citation was made under the association's annual pedestrian appraisal program.

Since the contest began in 1937, the number of pedestrian fatalities in the United States has been reduced from 15,500 in 1937 to 7900 last year, Robert W. Graver, manager of the public safety program, wrote the council.

"This reduction in the number of pedestrian fatalities . . . reflects the effectiveness of the pedestrian program in communities such as yours."

By Le Pacini

"LIKE FATHER, like son," is an adage that could eventually apply to Jim Davis Jr., son of last week's column subject.

Like his father, Jimmy is a ball player—a pitcher, to be exact. Of course, he hasn't proved as yet that he's his dad's equal. But then, senior made the majors, and junior's not even sure at this moment that he'll make Riordan High school's jayvees.

Having just turned 14, however, and not actually even a Riodan freshman until the fall semester begins, nor yet officially making the Riordan jayvees (or the majors) is no disgrace. And indications are that Jim will not only make the Riordan team, but could someday—with hustle and continued improvement and that omnipresent commodity of luck make the majors.

Unlike his father Jimmy throws from the conventional side of the hill, though he bats left.

"That's the combination I'd always hoped he'd develop," says dad.

The reason is fairly obvious. If a lefty can't pitch, baseball tradition and practicality rule that he must play first base or the outfield.

This means that a lefty must be an everyday hitter, and if he's a hitter, why would he have fooled around with playing only every four days as a pitcher?

In other words, if a lefty trains all his life as a pitcher and suddenly finds he can't make it as a hurler, he is, in all probability, out in the cold. Unless he's Stan Musial.

While it seems that Davis Jr. is quite a pitcher, therefore, it perhaps isn't a coincidence that he has also caught and played the infield (unless it was merely team need), and done so quite capably. As a bonus, he looks like a pretty good hitter, too. And hitting catchers and infielders aren't easy to come by.

AT THIS STAGE of his career, however, it's not too important where Davis plays, just that he plays—and Jim's had every opportunity, having received training from Little league on up.

Jim Sr., who is also athletic director of Our Lady of Mercy school — junior's "Alma mater" — is leary of talking about his son's abilities for fear of being pronounced prejudiced. He will say only that his son "seems to have some talent."

George Pedroni, manager of the PAL Tigers and a onetime Davis Jr., coach, says that Jimmy was, this past year, the best eighth grade player in the city — and seemed to indicate that the statemen was true in San Francisco as well as in Daly City.

At this point, Jim Jr. seems to have not only the talent but the heritage, which includes a father and two uncles (Marv and Lee Grissom — Lee now a pitching coach for the Angels) who pitched for a combined total of 21 years in the majors, and a grandfather (his mother's father, former San Francisco Assemblyman Tom Maloney) who was instrumental in helping to bring the Giants to San Francisco, and who, says Jim Sr., was perhaps more than any other man an inspiration to him in his baseball career.

In the last analysis, however, it'll all be up to Jimmy whether he becomes another phenom or just a good Sunday semi-pro.

Lots of things happen to kids between the ages of 14 and 18. They hurt their arms, lose interest, stop developing, become frustrated. Jim's father says his son won't be pushed — so that should eliminate frustration.

With the pitching coaches in the family, his arm should be preserved. If he keeps hustling and thinking and learning, he should continue to develop. With his baseball background, it will be hard to lose interest.

As we've indicated, he seems to have everything going for him. Some kids have been known to make the big leagues when their father thought that repairing fishing nets was the national pastsime.

SPACE LIMITATIONS on the senior Davis' column last week left part of one paragraph a mystery. It was stated that Jim had suffered the weird experience of losing a game because he tied an all time major league record.

Here's what was eliminated in the explanation of that feat:

With the score tied at 6-6, Jim was pitching in relief for the Cubs in the sixth inning of the first game of a doubleheader against St. Louis.

Hobbie Landrith was his catcher and Wally Moon, the first batter, singled. Davis struck out the next batter but in the course of doing so, Landrith let a knuckled go by him and Moon advanced to second. Jim also struck out the next batter but again Landrith let the pitch get away and Moon went to third.

Landrith also let the third strike on the next batter go, this one to the backstop. Moon scored and the batter reached first. Jim finally struck out the last batter and Hobbie hung onto the ball. The final score was 7-6 and Jim got "credit" for the loss.

"How Hobbie hated my knuckler!" says Jim. "Funny part, the next year he's traded to St. Louis —thinking he's finally getting away from me — and then finds out I'm coming with him!"

In case you're interested in who Jim shares his record with, they're Robert T. Matthews (Philadelphia) of the old American association when it was a major league in 1885; Ed Crane (Giants, 1888) George Wilts Giants, 1906, Waltr Johnson (Senators, 1911), and Guy Morton (Cleveland, 1916).

SUDDEN THOUGHT: Isn't Joey Amalfatano the only Giant who's a Californian? Statistics keep saying that California turns out more major leaguers than any other state but the Dodgers (Drysdale, Willie Davis, Fairly, Camilli) seem to be the only California team looking in their own back yard.

I SEE where old Dan Ferris is still trying to tell the AAU how to run things (ie, US-Russian meet scoring system), even though he announced retirement as its chief a couple of years ago. I wish he'd either make an official comeback or mind his own business.

A Rugged Run

The most dramatic answer yet to President John F. Kennedy's call for youth fitness will be given August 10 with the initial staging of the Ocean to The Bay Run.

Sponsored by the Belmont recreation department, this cross-country race will be the toughest staged in the entire state of California and one of the most rugged in the nation.

Contestants will start on the ocean beach at Half Moon Bay, travel over King's Mountain, the highest point in the county, before ending their weary, 15-mile journey on the Bay in Belmont.

Carlmont track coach Loren Lansberry said that several runners have already planned to enter the race, and while no age limit was set, the course was not one for the physically unfit to test.

Jeff Fishback, San Mateo's delegate to the United States track team now competing in Russia, helped Lansberry set up the course.

The runners will meet at Carlmont High school at 8 a.m. a.m. and will be transported to Half Moon Bay. The race will start at 9 a.m.

PLAYOFF GAMES PLANNED

Dodgers Win Title, Other Loop Races Are Undecided

A final win by the PAL Dodgers in the Intermediate league despite a no-hitter thrown against them, a deadlock in the American division of the Midget baseball loop and close race in the Midget's National division featured Daly City Recreation department baseball play last week.

Here is a rundown of the action:

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE

The PAL Dodgers bowed out of the Intermediate league with a final win over Relish Bakery, 3-0. This was the third no hitter thrown against the Dodgers.

Bob Noffsinger, Vic Yerby and Mario Sandoval all hold the dubious honor of holding the Dodgers hitless and losing the ball game.

With this final game, the Dodgers will leave the Intermediate diamond and move into the Junior league.

A dogfight exists for second place in the Intermediate league with Ben Franklin Press, BYA Relish Bakery and BYA Bender Roofing playing off for the second spot.

Ben Franklin Press will meet BYA Bender Roofing and the winner will meet BYA Relish Bakery for second place.

MIDGET-AMERICAN

The PAL Giants and OLPH Golds are tied for first place in this division. Both teams have compiled a 12 and 6 record for a .667 percentage.

The Giants held on to their piece of the crown by nosing out the stubborn Holy Angels Lions, 6-5.

The Giants jumped out with a 5-0 lead by the third inning. John Harrison nailed down the lid in the bottom of the sixth for the Giants with a blast that was good for the winning RBI.

The Lions also suffered defeat at the hands of the OLPH Golds. After jumping out to a 4-0 lead over the Golds, the Lions were stunned by an OLPH explosion of hits. Seven consecutive hits were turned into six runs. Final score: Golds 6, Lions 4.

Tom Denning and Ed Schweitzer pounded the ball for OLPH while Mike Gugliemoni fanned 10 of the Lion batters.

The Golds and the Giants will play off for the championship.

MIDGET-NATIONAL

This division has the OLM Leopards still on top this week. Should the Holy Angels Colts be able to upset the PAL Cardinals today at Westlake Park, the Leopards will win the crown.

The Cards are heavy favorites to win after their game with the Leopards last Thursday night.

Dave Speith went the distance for the Leopards fanning 10, giving up 1 walk and 2 hits. The game went 10 innings before it was called because of darkness.

Fair Spends A Busy Week On Fairways

Daly City's Jim Fair has been a busy golfer in warming up for the National Junior Golf championships at Florence, South Carolina next week.

Fair, Westmoor High school's number one golfer for the past two seasons, was edged in a semi-final match for the San Francisco Junior City championship at Lincoln park last week by John Miller.

Miller, who beat Fair by one stroke, went on to win the championship Friday.

Sunday, Jim was joined by his father, George Fair, in the twelfth annual Roos-Atkins Father and Son championships at Golden Gate park.

The Fairs pulled a major upset in the semifinal match by downing the Aragonas, Bill Sr. and Jr., 5-3.

The Fairs qualified when they tied at 63 with eight other father-son teams. Their names were drawn from a hat.

The senior Fair has been an employee of the Jefferson Union High school district for the past 16 years and a resident of Daly City for 20 years.

Sunday's Roos-Atkins finals run from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Then that night the Fairs will rush to catch a plane to Florence to sign in at the National tournament Monday.

Saints Gain Tri-City Tie

The San Francisco Saints, by virtue of a 12-3 victory over the El Camino A. C., have cinched a tie for first place in the Tri-City Summer Baseball league, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department.

Only a Saints' loss to league dormat Balieff Construction and a Jefferson A. C. win over tough South Sunset A. C. would end the race in a tie.

In Saturday's battle, the booming bats of the Saints' batters, plus the 11-strikeout pitching of Jim Papalias was too much for the young El Camino nine to match.

Pacing the 15-hit Saint attack was left fielder Frank Stratinsky who was three for four and Bob Warnke and John Vellaro who garnered two hits apiece.

Sunday's top game featured the battle for second place between cross town rivals, Jefferson AC and Westmoor AC, won by Jefferson in eight innings, 4-3.

Sola Takes Low Gross

Alex Sola fired two birdies on the final two holes to edge out Ed Castagnetto Sr. for the low gross title in the July Sweepstakes at Cypress Hills Golf course Sunday.

Sola shot an even par 30 to Castagnetto's 31.

Dominic Asciutto, Tony Montana and Jack Patrick tied at 27½ for low net.

Cypress Hills owner Gus Pedemonte was third with a 28.

John Thomas of San Francisco was top for the blind bogey title with a 73.

In a hole-in-one tournament, Charles Piazza came to within 4 feet 7 inches of the cup to grab top honors. Jerry Christiana was the closest to him with a shot six feet nine inches from the cup.

Cypress Hills Selects Team

A team of three players will represent the Cypress Hills Golf course in the Northern California Medal Play championships at Stanford August 2-4, it was announced last week.

The team will consist of Alex Sola, Ed Castagnetto Jr., and Ed Castagnetto Sr.

D. C. Man Bags Hole-in-One

Henry Donnelly of 61 Crestwood drive, Daly City, tallied a hole-in-one last week on the difficult 245-yard fourth hole at Cypress Hills golf course.

Donnelly bagged the ace by using a driver on the par three hole. The feat was witnessed by members of his foursome, Jack Patrick, Tom Thimis and Victor Santa Maria.

A Giant Gift

The Daly City Recreation department was the recipient of $300 donated by the San Francisco Giants for the promotion of "sand-lot" baseball within the Daly City area.

Sixteen Peninsula recreation departments extending from San Jose in the south to Daly City in the north received similar amounts.

The donation has been expended in the purchase of bats, balls, chest protectors, shin guards and catchers' masks, for the use of Farm league clubs.

The Farm league is a new league composed of boys under 11 years of age who have not had the experience necessary to participate in the more competitive midget league.

Fourteen clubs composed of approximately 280 boys have been playing for the past six weeks at the Colma Junior High school on Saturdays and Tuesdays.

The Police Athletic league of Daly City recently also received a donation of $1000 from the Giants.

Morton Gets A No-Hitter

Daly City's Smoky Morton hurled a no-hitter last week in leading the PAL Cardinals to a 14-0 victory over Upper Noe in the San Francisco Recreation league.

Morton struck out 17 batters in keeping the Cardinal's record unblemished in league play.

The Cardinals were at the top of the league with two games left before the playoffs for the San Francisco World Series.

Serra Bowl

HIGH SCORES abounded in last week's league and tournament shooting at Serra with honors divided very equally between guys and gals.

At the top of the news, we find the 850 Scratch league and the following results: Len Figuerro topped a host of high rollers with his outstanding 231-630 series for Eakin and Eakin, which scored a 2½ to ½ win over Team 4 led by Ron Scheer with a 570 trio.

Running a close second for individual honors was Ron Raeta who rapped out a 227-619 series to pace Susie's Do-Nuts in a 3-0 sweep over Drake Realty company. Earl Friend Jr. just missed a spot on the 600 club with his 216-598 as Cristoni's defeated Dick's Tower in all three games.

High game of the week came in the Tuesday night Giants league when Tom Cano tossed a towering 278 in his third stanza and helped salvage one game for Ye Olde FireHouse in their match with New Alpine Company. Tom had, unfortunately, gotten off to a shakey start and his big game helped him to push his three-game tally to 564 for the evening.

In Guys and Dolls league action, Milt Boaz paced his Al Pollack team to a three-game decision over Team 5 with a worthy effort of 248-592 series.

AFTER the big holiday play and pay-off in the Serra Wednesday night Scotch Doubles, entires have slackened slightly but first place still paid $26.40 to Gil and Lee Driscoll for their 664 score. Last place winners, Sandy Morabito and Al Coulter, toook home $8.25 for a 625 total.

In the Friday afternoon 3-6-9 tournament for ladies, Rebecca Cascino and Anita DelCampo shared top spot with 688 trios while Marge Somdahl ran second with a 683 effort.

Millie Welling topped the entire Knights of Columbus league this week with her fine 224-539 series but her Giants team was routed in a 2-1 defeat by the Tigers.

In afternoon kegling, Marie Pascussi rates ladies' laurels for her last performance in the Thuesday Rockettes league. Marie paced her team to a 3-0 triumph over the Half Quarts with a strong 212-485 threesome. For the vanquished, Barbara Santucci rolled an even 300 series on triplicate scores of 100 apiece!

Westlake Bowl

This helped bring the total for the first three weeks over the $2000 mark. As the tournament entered the final three weeks, leaders in the various classes were Kay French, Louella Brown, Jack McManus and Steve Gotelli.

Seven ladies took home prizes in Monday afternoon's 3-6-9 Sweeper as Ruth Maniscalco led the field with 725 followed by Emily Drago 686, Isabelle McPherson 656, Mae Dreier 645, Evelyn Goldkuhl 626, Anita Del Campo 604 and Barbara Castronova 565.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

THIS WEEK we'll think about vegetables and a dish that combines them for a quick and easy stew. Also, we'll reintroduce two old favorites that always add taste and color to the menu.

Usually when we think of a stew, we think of a dish that takes a lot of time and work to prepare. This lamb stew uses shoulder lamb chops and therefore doesn't require long cooking to make it tender.

LAMB AND VEGETABLE STEW

4 shoulder lamb chops (about 1½ pounds)
2 tabsp. shortening
1 can condensed consomme
¼ tsp. rosemary leaves, crushed
¼ cup water
1 clove garlic, minced
8 small whole onions
1 pkg. frozen cut green beans
2 to 3 tbsp. flour

In skillet, brown the chops in shortening. Pour off the excess drippings. Add consomme, rosemary, and garlic. Cover and cook over low heat 30 minutes. Add onions and green beans; cook covered an additional 40 minutes or until the vegetables are tender. Remove meat and vegetables. Blend flour and water until mixture is smooth. Gradually add to gravy, stirring constantly. Cook until thickened. Makes four servings.

DO YOU find that you serve the same vegetables over and over, cooked in the same way? I think we all get in this habit at times. Here are two ways of fixing vegetables that will add variety to any meal.

HARVARD BEETS

2 cans (1-pound size) diced beets
2-3 cup sugar
2 tbsp. cornstarch
½ cup vinegar
½ tsp. salt
¼ cup butter or margarine

Drain beets, reserving ½ cup liquid. In a three-quart saucepan, combine sugar and cornstarch; mix well. Gradually stir in reserved beet liquid, vinegar and salt; bring to boiling, stirring. Reduce heat and simmer two minutes. Sauce should be slightly thickened and translucent. Add beets; simmer very slowly, stirring occasionally 15 minutes. Just before serving, add butter and bring just to boiling. Makes eight servings.

SUCCOTASH

2 tsp. salt
1 pkg. frozen lima beans
2 pkgs. frozen whole-kernel corn
¼ cup light cream
2 tbsp. butter or margarine
Dash pepper
⅛ tsp. ground thyme

In medium saucepan, bring ¾ cup water with 1½ teaspoons salt to boiling. Add lima beans; bring to boiling again. Reduce heat, and simmer, covered, 15 minutes. Add corn; simmer three minutes longer or until beans and corn are tender. Drain well. Toss with remaining salt and rest of ingredients to mix well. Makes six to eight servings.

The youngster weighed only two pounds, ten ounces when he arrived unexpectedly May 17, a month and a half ahead of time. He was born at Children's hospital.

Bud Opening Film Planned

The mechanics of flower buds opening will be demonstrated by colored movies at the regular monthly meeting of the San Mateo county Rose society at Hayward Park school on Fifteenth avenue near El Camino Real at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Joseph Kusper will be the speaker and will show his movie film in slow motion. Kusper lives in Colma. He is the past president of the American Fuchsia society and the San Francisco Fuchsia society.

COFFEE FROSTING

Gala Symphony Concert Will Open New Season

A single gala concert on the evening of November 29 will open the 1963-64 season of the San Francisco Symphony orchestra.

This is one of the innovations for the new season, according to Josef Krips, conductor and musical director.

Another innovation: regular weekly concerts during the season will be on Wednesday evenings, Thursday afternoons and Friday evenings.

According to J. D. Zellerbach, president of the San Francisco Symphony association, the decision to change from the present pattern of Wednesday and Thursday evening and Friday afternoon concerts was made after a survey of regular subscribers indicated preference for the change.

Zellerbach added that persons now holding Thursday night season tickets who did not want to purchase Friday evening season tickets would be given preference in the allocation of Wednesday night locations.

He also said that present Thursday night ticket holders would be able to retain their seat locations for the Friday night concerts while Friday afternoon ticket holders would be given the same priority for the new Thursday afternoon concerts.

Distinguished guest artists and conductors will ap. ar frequently during the season. Charles Munch and Paul Kletzki will conduct the orchestra in February and March when Krips is conducing the New York Philharmonic.

Rudolf Serkin heads the list of pianists who will be returning as guest artists. Others are Leonard Pennario, John Browning, and Jorge Bolet. Jerome Lowenthal, a young American pianist, will make his San Francisco debut.

Two mater violinists, Isaac Stern and Yehudi Menuhin, will appear with the orchestra. Leonard Rose, 'cellist, will make a return engagement in January and Bernard Garfield, first bassoonist with the Philadelphia orchestra, will make his debut in San Francisco in April.

Completing the instrumental roster will be Rolf Prsinger, new principal violist of the San Francisco Symphony orchestra, and Robert Sayre, newly appointed first desk 'cellist.

Two major choral works have been scheduled. Handel's Messiah will be given during the Christmas season. The final program at the Opera House will feature Bethoven's Symphony number 9 as well as Lucas Foss' Parable of Death.

Fair Guests May Ballot

Visitors to the county fair starting Friday will have an opportunity to express themselves on viital city and county matters.

The south county chapter of the League of Women Voters will have a voting machine in its booth. Visitors to the booth will be asked to vote yes or no on five important civic matters.

Mrs. Adams gave this list of questions already received, and said they are typical of what is wanted:

Do you want pay as you go or bonding for major construction projects?

Should the county participate in rapid transit development:

Do you want our obscenity laws enforced?

Should small school districts be unified?

Would you like San Mateo county to become a city-county like San Francisco?

3 Relative Newcomers Offer Works at Gallery

Bay Area visitors to Bolles Gallery in San Francisco may see the work of three relative newcomers in an exhibit "Two Painters and a Sculptor," which has opened at the gallery.

The painters are Hugh Curtis and Paul Pernish. Both were born and received their early education in the Middle West—Curtis in Iowa and Pernish in Michigan. Both now live in the East Bay.

Curtis paints the human figure in a flat two-dimensioned manner derived from 19th Century Japanese wood - block prints, which he greatly admirges.

In Paul Pernish's work, visitors might feel a relative sense of geographical vastness. His subject matter is drawn from the nation's railroads and railroad cars.

Asked how he came to select boxcars, gondolas and such for his paintings, Pernish replied: "I want to paint well and so I paint objects for which I have an affinity."

Robert Brotherton is a native of Santa Barbara, Calif. He lives in the Sacramento area. He studied sculpture with Julius Schmidt at the Kansas City Art institute.

Though Brotherton's work is abstract, he possesses a Gothic spirit that manifests inself in gargoyle - like forms or sometimes soaring shapes that are reminiscent of the spires of ancient European Cathedrals.

Teenager Asks . . .

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I am 17 and just arrived in California on a summer vacation to stay with my brother.

I would like to meet some friends my own age, but I don't know how. There doesn't seem to be very many in his neighborhood and I just can't walk up to them on the street. What groups could I join to meet kids?

Mal

Dear Mal:

There are several teen clubs in the area, sponsored by churches and civic groups. You can begin by checking with your park and recreation department. You will find they have a fantastic teen club going full swing.

Second, contact the churches in your area. They too have a great teen dance club going, and believe me, I have seen these groups and they are something to be proud of.

Kids really make you feel at home. This area is rated among the tops in the country for having the greatest and friendliest of teen-agers. I'm sure if you went to one of these teen dance clubs, the kids would really welcome you with open arms.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I am 14 years old and I don't know how to dance. I read your column on how awful teenagers dance but I can't dance at all. If I go to a dance, I'm afraid to ask a girl to dance. Where do they teach teen dancing? Shall I go to a dance studio or what shall I do?

G.K.

Dear G.K.:

Your best bet is to confide in a friend. Preferrably an older girl 16 or 17 years of age. They are really understanding and they know how they want boys to dance. So if you know such a friend ask her to teach you.

I will not recommend a dance studio because only a teen-ager can teach teen-age dances. There is nothing more ridiculous than to watch a 40-year-old lady trying to teach teen-agers how to dance. It is like Paul Bunyan teaching ballet. Kids are eager to help kids — so stay in your own group and confide in an older girl.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I am 16 and I am looking for work! What can I do? No one will hire me because I have no experience. San Francisco has a teen-age employment service, why don't we?

Unemployed

Dear Unemployed:

Yours is the 432nd letter with this problem. Therefore, I have worked out a plan with the California State Employment department to work with me in organizing one here.

So with success, I'm glad to report that Monday and Tuesday August 5 and 6 from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. you all can fill out applications and the state will find summer and part time winter employment for you.

If there is a big turnout the state will continue this program. However, I do need assistants. If you wish to help me organize this program, you can write to me at:

Joe Bavaresco
Camp Meeker, Calif.

Drama a Hit With Teenagers

Classes Draw Enthusiastic D.C. Reaction

A WASHTUB painted black and some dry ice in water to make smoke becomes a steaming cauldron for a witch to cackle and cavort over.

This bit of black magic is the magic of the stage and the characters who are bringing the fairyland people to life these days are Daly City teen-agers.

For the first time in the history of Daly City, the Department of Recreation is offering teen drama classes in its summer program and the response has been "very enthusiastic."

Guiding light in the new experiment is Nedra Merrick, an attractive blonde bundle of energy who inspires two groups of teen-agers once a week for two hours at the Westmoor clubhouse and the War Memorial Community center.

"The purpose of the course is to provide the teens with an introduction to the theater," Miss Merrick says.

The program is in its sixth of ten scheduled weeks.

THE GROUPS will receive training not only in acting but also in various phases of stagecraft—such as lighting, props and costumes.

"It's just a beginning, Miss Merrick says. "I am helping them to learn by giving them a beginning. They have a lot of potential and are very enthusiastic. They are doing this on their own and are excited about it."

Miss Merrick graduated from San Francisco State college a year ago with a degree in drama. She also studied dancing. She is doing graduate work at the college in hopes of earning her masters degree.

The summer program drama classes are serving as a workshop for her. She hopes to teach drama at the high school level.

"I'm learning from them," she says, "while helping them with voices and movements."

She also teaches story drama to young children from the ages of six to eight and creative dance to children from the ages of seven to 14.

THE TWO teen groups plan to present separate children's shows in about three weeks at playgrounds in the city. Each show will be produced about four or five times.

The teen group, which meets Wednesdays between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. at the Westmoor clubhouse, soon will offer "The King's Creampuffs" by Martha Swintz.

It is a humorous play about the mythical kingdom of Delicatessia and a king's passionate craving for creampuffs.

The story runs the gamut of emotion with love, (between the lowly page and the princess), danger (the power of the witch of all witches), and above all, laughter.

The group that meets Monday at the War Memorial Community center is working on "The Empress' New Clothes," a story about a vain ruler with 600,-999 robes.

Miss Merrick explains one of the reasons she is using the children's shows in the program is because they are a "fun-type introduction," which can be performed quickly and put on for many and varied audiencds.

Also the staging generally can be transported easily.

Eighteen supervised recreational facilities of the Daly City Department of Recreation also provide "a ready-made audience," she adds.

THE DRAMA teacher says that to perform children's shows successfully requires talent on the part of the actors. But the mistakes that are usually made are not caught as readily as they would before an adult audience.

She hopes by the end of the ten-week program a large production can be put on with both groups at the War Memorial Community center.

When the program is complete, the teen-age thespians will have had a dab at a good chunk of the theater.

For the first couple of weeks of instruction, the teens performed improvisations, characterizations and readings. The readings ranged from Shakespeare to poetry.

In the improvisations, the teens assumed the part of a typed person in a particular situation (such as a little girl lost or an old man crossing the street) and would ad-lib their way through a scene.

The age of the two groups range from 12 to 17 years, Miss Merrick says, and the average attendance has been around a dozen.

Taking part in the Westmoor clubhouse group are Brad Hansen, Judy Knight, Carol Gonzales, Sandra Tucker, Steve McBride, Maureen Maschinot, Lori Hannigan, Gail Land, Phyllis Land, Jim Doiron, Barbara Prez and Kathleen Herman.

Taking part in the War Memorial Community center group are Cherrie Van Gundy, Donna Van Gundh, Lilby Goodner, Marilyn and Dianne Tingley, Kathy Fields, Shiela and Rita Dockery, Bonnie Rebarker, Vesta Lee and Barbara Rafter.

"And more are welcome," Miss Merrick adds.

More information may be obtained by calling the Recreation department at PL 5-0850.

Ad Contract Stirs Coast Controversy

A Pacifica businessman has stoutly opposed a move by two councilmen to award the city's legal advertising contract to the low bidder, a weekly with offices in the Linda Mar Shopping center.

Al Rosenberg, who owns Linda Mar Paint center and is a member of the city's planning commission, objected to the contract going to The Coastside News. He questioned the validity of the paper's circulation figures.

City council split 2-2 with Councilman George Mason absent on awarding the bid three weeks ago and at a second meeting decided not to vote on the issue again when Mayor Harold Feyge was absent.

The Coastside News, owned by Arnold Kloeppel, bid $1.25 per column inch, claiming a paid circulation of 2983.

The Pacifica Tribune, present holder of the contract, bid $1.75 for the first insertion and $1.25 for all subsequent insertions.

Rosenberg attempted to read his letter to the city council but was repeatedly ruled out of order by acting Mayor Harland Minshew.

More than 50 people were present to speak on the matter but the council split 2-2 on whether or not to hold a public hearing and comments from the floor were not heard.

Rosenberg was instructed to file his letter with the city manager.

In the letter, Rosenberg said that to qualify for the legal advertising contract, a newspaper should have a "large circulation, exact wording, good past service and reliability."

He said the Coastside News had not yet established its reputation as an effective Pacifica newspaper. If the council awarded the contract to The News, Rosenberg claimed members would not be doing the job they were elected to do.

Rosenberg said he was not against competition in business and that he liked to see the "little man" succeed, but he felt he should prove himself first.

MARY JANE PUTZ

Milan: A City Of Excitement

Switzerland's mountain hamlets are beautiful and picturesque . . . Mlan, Italy, is a city of artistic excitement . . . the Baltic Sea is blue and calm . . .

These are some of the impressions recorded by a Westmoor High school student who is spending July and August in Europe on a summer program sponsored by the American Field Service.

The Rev. Herbert Tweedie, AFS Committee chairman, reported that the student, Mary Jane Putz, has filled letters to her parents with observations of her travels.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Putz of 19 Mayfield avenue, Daly City.

Together with 750 other high school students throughout the country, Mary Jane sailed from New York City for Rotterdam, the jumping off point for her European stay.

She has been staying with the family of Dr. and Mrs. Di Donato Giuseppe in Ancona on the Baltic Sea in Italy.

Dr. Giuseppe directs the Government Institute of Health Insurance for Italian Workmen.

Next month, she will stay with Mr. and Mrs. Mauro Scifoni in Rome. While visiting with the Scifonis, she will travel with them to Rotterdam to meet their daughter, Maria, who will return to Europe after spending a year with a family in Minnesota under an AFS program.

Report by SM Deputy Is Lauded

Copies of "A Policeman Looks at Race Relations," a paper written by Sheriff's Lt. Joseph P. Kimble of San Mateo county, are being distributed to all police academies and colleges in the state by the state Department of Justice.

The paper, in which Kimble analyzes prevalent attitudes of the Negro toward the community and of police toward the Negro, and makes recommendations for improved relationships, has been published in "Police" magazine and has received widespread attention.

Police Seminar

Undersheriff Wesley A. Pomeroy said copies of the paper will also be distributed at a police-community seminar to be held at Ravenswood High school in East Palo Alto August 10.

The seminar is being sponsored by the county Law Enforcement association in the interest of better understanding of problems in the predominantly Negro community of East Menlo Park-East Palo Alto.

"It (is) our responsibility," Kimble declares in his paper, "as professional police officers to actively seek an insight into the problems of the Negro and other minority groups.

"We must be certain that we are objective in our contacts, impartial in our actions. There is no need to resign ourselves to the feeling that violence and aggression between our social groups is inevitable. To do so would be to admit that the moral implications of our system of justice and culture are impotent.

"A sincere, conscious effort on our part to better understand our fellow man will pave the way to better community relations for all groups, regardless of origins."

TONNEAU STOLEN

Charles T. Dillaway of LaFayette reported to Daly City police last week that thieves had stolen a tonneau cover from his sports car while it was parked in the Thorton Beach area.

Young Cyclist Hurt in Fall

A six-year-old Daly City boy suffered an injured left wrist Friday afternoon when he fell off his bicycle and struck a car near his home.

The youngster is Bruce Katuna of 330 El Dorado drive. Police identified the driver of the auto as Gerald R. Williams, 38, of 560 Olcese court, Daly City.

S.F., Mateo Will Meet

Feeling the need for more rapport between the two counties, San Mateo county supervisors will host San Francisco supervisors and Mayor George Christopher at lunch at the Holiday Inn in South San Francisco August 6.

The lunch had been scheduled before but a majority of the San Francisco officials couldn't make it.

Acting chairman James V. Fitzgerald came up with the idea of the luncheon after San Francisco officials hollered long and hard about having its airport taxes tripled by San Mateo county.

Fitzgerald said the airport will be just one of the matters to be discussed at the luncheon. Other items will include the proposed Southern Bay crossing, the Skyline scenic highway and land reclamation.

CSM Taxes To Go Down

The combination of a cut in tax rate while meeting increased educational expenditures is in store for the San Mateo Junior college district taxpayers during 1963-1964.

The publication budget of the district for the coming year, adopted last week by the board of trustees, includes a total of $3,641,309 for current expenditures, an increase of $461,617 over the 1962-1963 expenditures.

But as now estimated, the total operational tax rate for 1963-1964 will be .3920, a cut of .0221 from the 1962-1963 rate. The operation rate will include .35 for maintenance, .0135 for retirement, and .0284 for community services.

For bond interest and redemption on the 1957 issue of $5,900,000, the rate for the coming year will show a slight rise, since returns from the investment of bonds have ceased with the use of the funds for current construction payments on College Heights.

Pacifican Injured In Crash

Mrs. Lena Drebert, 57, of 156 Juanita, Pacifica, was taken to French hospital in San Francisco Friday for serious injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

Her car was hit on Cabrillo highway near Pacifica by a vehicle driven by Dolores Batts, 32, 236 B street, South San Francisco, the California highway patrol reported.

Miss Batts lost control of her car as she was driving north on Coast highway about 4 p.m.

She ran off an embankment on the right, came back onto the highway and crossed into the southbound lane hitting the other car, the highway patrol said.

ERIC POLIAK of Daly City has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the United States Air Force after graduation from officer training school at Lackland Air Force base, Texas. He is the son of Mrs. Ella Poliak of 225 St. Francis boulevard, Daly City.

Dog Versus Postman in Westview

"Neither rain nor snow nor dark of night will stay this noble courier from his appointed rounds."

This is the motto that has guided the stout-hearted mailmen of America for decades.

But their dedication to duty does not apparently include dogs.

A delegation of residents from the Westview area appeared before Pacifica city councilmen to complain that because a resident in the area refuses to keep his dog leashed, the local post office had refused to deliver mail in the neighborhood.

Emory Lebonville of 159 Lorry land complained that even though residents have hauled the dog owner into court he still allows his animal to roam loose on the public street.

Residents complained there have been several cases within the city where postmen have been bitten.

City Attorney Conrad Reisch said most cities have found it difficult to enforce ordinances requiring dogs to be kept on leashes.

City Manager Karl A. Baldwin added that the police department is not equipped to pick up stray dogs. He said, however, the Peninsula Humane society is always on call.

Councilmen expressed concern over the dog problem and instructed Baldwin to make an investigation on possible solutions.

In a mostly routine meeting, the council also:

Turned down a recommendation of Baldwin that the city provide the Greyhound company a bus parking lot near the Linda Mar sewage treatmnnt plant because the property is too close to the highway, and asked company officials to find another site for bus parking.

Agreed to allow the new Franklin D. Roosevelt school in the Jefferson elementary school district to connect to Pacifica sewer lines until connections can be made to Daly City.

Instructed the city engineer to confer with the Daly City engineer to work out a joint boundary with Daly City in the new Fairmont area so city limits will not cut any property into parts.

Approved an application of Oddstad homes to rezone a portion of Linda Mar No. 31 to a garden apartment and neighborhood commercial area.

BB DAMAGE REPORTED

Jack S. Glastra of 71 Olcese court reported to Daly City police shot a BB through the front window of his home.

Pacific Parade

By DON MILLER

THE TWENTY-NINTH renewal last week of that annual blast, the crowning of a Fiesta Dream Girl and the free-flowing reception that accompanied it, must—by all party standards—be considered another unqualified success.

Leave it to this San Mateo county fair people—as party givers, they rank in the first order. Their task was to graciously accommodate some 300 of the top governmental brass in the county, representatives of the press and a sizable delegation from the free-loading fraternity.

They did so with relative ease and with a buffet that was more of a banquet than a buffet. Choicest goodie on the serving table was roast beef and the way the caterers kept lugging sides of it out onto the table, it made you wonder if the West's steer population hadn't been drastically reduced.

Of course, it seems that any party that's going to be a successful party in this free-imbibing state of ours has to have an ample supply of the hard stuff, liberally and rapidly dispensed.

In this department, the fair directors scored a couple of aces. One for the supply and the speed in which the supply was poured and another for the fact that, somehow, nobody got blotto. Perhaps a key factor in this second state of affairs was the fact the faucets were judiciously shut off once the party started to chow down.

Now, in addition to the good spirits, there's another vital ingredient in any good party stew—someone who makes everyone laugh—and here again, the directors tallied an ace.

The gentleman they picked—the same one they've inveigled into this task for the past nine years—was Paul Speegle, a drama critic who in addition to having long ago mastered the art of effortless ad libbing, also has one of those infectious laughs—embellished with a kind of squeak.

Speegle, somehow or another, always seems to evoke some of those did-I-say-that comments from the Dream Girl contestants and this year's production certainly wasn't an exception.

In fact, the 1963 Dream Girl contest probably should be ranked high in the order of contests that heard the funniest—and in some cases, the most awkward—repartee between master of ceremonies and contstant.

NATURALLY, you can't expect any Dream Girl beauty to be at her conversational best in front of 500 ogling spectators who, understandably, are more interested in curves than chit-chat. Speegle wisely recognized where the chief interest was being manifested and limited his probing questions to a few moments for each girl.

But some of those few moments were priceless for the unrehearsed gag lines they produced. Because we thought you'd like to get in on the party, if only in a vicarious way, we now present a capsule version of the hilarity.

Enter Miss Brisbane from stage center, a 5-2 brunette with hazel eyes.

Speegle: "Do you know the mayor of Brisbane."

Miss Brisbane, with a woeful searching look in her eyes, apologetically shakes her head. She doesn't know. And, for that matter, if she had been asked her mother's name at that point, she also probably wouldn't have known either.

Getting a negative response to his question, Speegle chortles:

"Well, that's the way I feel about it, too."

This, of course, prompts a sarcastic guffaw from the Daly City table, jammed with councilmen who aren't exactly in love with Brisbane after the recent annexation wars.

Exit Miss Brisbane and enter Miss Burlingame, a 5-6 blonde with blue eyes.

Speegle: "Well, now, Miss Burlingame, tell me what you do."

"Miss Burlingame: "I really don't do anything.

Speegle? "Well, then, what are your hobbies?"

Miss Burlingame: "Swimming and boys."

Speegle. "In that order?"

Miss Burlingame with a laugh: "No, boys and swimming."

Speegle: "That's better."

Big roar from the audience, exit Miss Burlingame and enter the North county's own Miss Daly City, tallest of the girls at 5-11.

Speegle: "Gee, you're a tall one, aren't you? What do you do in Daly City?"

Miss Daly City replies that she's working for the Westlake Shopping center in a sales promotion and that her job requires her to dress in a pirate's costume.

That straight-away, unflustered answer seems to unglue Speegle for a moment and all he can reply is:

"Well, that's nice. Now why don't you walk out there (on the runway) and show them how statuesque you are."

And that she does amid a round of prideful applause from the Daly City contingent who are convinced later that although Miss Daly City didn't win the beauty contest, she certainly garnered the award for being the most conversationally composed when the occasion demanded.

After Miss Daly City, Miss Half Moon Bay enters stage center and when asked by Speegle what she does, replies:

"Oh, mostly anything."

Speegle, with a mischievous note in his voice: "Perhaps I should have re-phrased that question—'What IS there to do in Half Moon Bay."

Big chuckle from the Pacifica delegation, members of which, of course, are convinced their city is THE coastside city in the county.

At this point, Miss Menlo-Atherton enters and when she's asked what she does, answers: "I used to study."

Speegle: "What stopped you?"

Miss Menlo-Atherton: "I graduated."

But there's more. When Miss Pacifica enters the limelight, she's asked if she plans to get married. She replies: "In about 10 years."

Speegle, with that infectious laugh: "Oh, that's nice. You just look around a bit."

When Speegle finds out that the next lovely, Miss San Bruno, is a descendant of Betsy Ann Ross, he suggests: "I think you ought to take up sewing."

Miss San Mateo, the ultimate winner, comes on now and in answer to Speegle's relentless questioning, reveals her ambition is to become a private secretary.

"Speegle: "In what kind of an organization?

Miss San Mateo: "A good one (pause) and an honest one."

Speegle: "You know, they're not necessarily synonymous."

And that, party lovers, is the way it went all evening

Biggest Dog

Not So Big Dog

TWO SIZES — Prizes for both the biggest and the smallest dogs were awarded Saturday in a youngsters' dog show. In top photo, Heidi Reid hangs onto her giant entry, Casper, a St. Bernard, judged the best dog in the show, the biggest dog and the dog with the longest tail. In bottom photo, Cory Fernandez of Millbrae holds his toy poodle, Biju, which won second place in the smallest dog competition. (Post-Times photos)

Dogs on Parade

More than 80 dogs—and their youthful owners—competed in a youngsters' dog show in the central mall of the Westlake Shopping center Saturday. The show was sponsored by center merchants.

Judged best of show, the largest dog and the dog with the longest tail was Casper, a St. Bernard entered by four-year-old Heidi Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Reid of 160 Hiawatha avenue, Pacifica.

Other winners were: best trick dog—CoCo, a poodle entered by Janice Fernandez, 12, of 801 Banbury lane, Daly City; smallest by Frank Baccaro, 12, of 650 Florence street, Daly City; best costumed dog—Can-Dee Petite, entered by Lynn Ann Nolli, 11, of 812 Heather road, Colma.

Contest was co-sponsored by the Ken-L-Ration division of the Quaker Oats company.

Judges were Claudia Smith, Miss Daly City; Judi Homan, Susan Schwoerer and Joanne Corner.

Eddie Peabody to Head Fiesta Show

Eddie Peabody, whose skillful banjo plucking and bouyant personality have won him fans throughout the world, will top nine days of entertainment for the family at the twenty-ninth annual San Mateo county Fair and Fiesta, August 2 through 10.

For 40 years, audiences have enjoyed Eddie Peabody's easy brand of western humor combined with banjo playing at its finest.

Long considered the undisputed king of the banjo, Eddie got his professional start in San Francisco as the musical conductor ad emcee of the show at the old Granada theater in Market street.

Today his appearances take him throughout most of this country's cities and towns, and he is credited with the current revival in banjo music.

Peabody will star in the Stage Revue, August 7-10, which also features the music of Jack Fisher and his orchestra, the acting and singing impressions of emcee-comedian Jimmy Jamerson, "county fair" high-stepping by the Malione dancers and especially for the kids, Dwight Moore's Monrgel Revue, which has appeared with the Shrine Circus for several years.

The "Cavalcade of Music," which launches fairtime entertainment at the Fiesta Bowl show, August 2-6, will be a departure from the perennial vaudeville-variety show, presenting a complete program of songs, dances and instrumental favorites of a century in American music, from 1860 to 1963.

Butterscotch Can Top All

Butterscotch, as typical of Scotland as plaids and bagpipes, takes a quick trip around the world to join forces with crushed pineapple in an exotic dessert sauce. This meeting of West and East produces a sauce of mellow color and flavor that glamorizes ice cream or cake.

Thanks to butterscotch flavored morsels, the sauce can be made in a few minutes and, once made, it keeps well in the refrigerator. Butterscotch morsels are the same size and shape as the famous semi-sweet chocolate morsels that go into Toll House cookies. Like the chocolate morsels, too, they can be eaten as a candy, put into cookie dough, or melted for use in sauces, frostings or baked goods. But they have a flavor all their own, the flavor so popular in traditional butterscotch candy. Because these morsels melt so readily, they need only be stirred into the simmered pineapple to complete the sauce.

Butterscotch-Pineapple Skillet Sauce

1 can (9 ounces) crushed pineapple	2 tablespoons butter
	1 6-ounce package (1 cup) butterscotch morsels

Put crushed pineapple with syrup into saucepan. Add butter and bring to a boil, stirring occasionally. Reduce heat; simmer 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Add butterscotch morsels and stir until melted. Yield: Approximately 1⅓ cups.

Note: If sauce is chilled in refrigerator; reheat over low heat, before serving.

Colorful Ice Cream Cake

Cool 'n frosty as it is eye appealing is this colorful ice cream cake. Remember, whenever you serve ice cream, fun as it always is, you serve a wholesome, nourishing food containing valuable amounts of vitamins and minerals.

Cut an angel food loaf cake lengthwise into 4 equal layers. Spread one-half pint of Macadamia Nut ice cream on each of two layers and one-half pint strawberries 'n cream ice cream on each of the other two.

On serving platter, stack layers, alternating ice cream flavors, now freeze. Frost sides of cake with one cup sweetened whipped cream and return to freezer to allow cream to set. Garnish with whole fresh strawberries or cherries. Will serve 6 to 8 taste-tempting portions.

Try Mocha Milk Punch

Here's a great party drink, appropriate for many occasions during the winter holiday season. Served hot and foamy, Mocha Milk Punch is a delightful blend of cocoa, instant coffee and milk, delicately flavored with rum extract.

For the benefit of would-be weight-watchers, this quick and easy-to-make punch is sweetened with the calorie-free sweetener Sucaryl, rather than with sugar. Sucaryl dissolves immediately in either hot or cold beverages and gives a natural-tasting sweetness that both dieters and non-dieters will enjoy. Count just 61 calories for each delicious half-cup serving.

Mocha Milk Punch
(Low-Calorie)

6 tablespoons cocoa	2 quarts skim milk
3 tablespoons instant coffee	2 teaspoons rum extract
2 tablespoons Sucaryl solution	¼ cup nonfat dry milk
	¼ cup ice water

Combine cocoa, coffee and Sucaryl in a large saucepan or kettle. Slowly stir in milk. Heat over medium heat, stirring constantly. When hot, remove from heat and add rum extract. Mix dry milk and ice water in bowl; beat until stiff peaks form. Add to mocha mixture, beating with rotary beater until foamy. Serve hot. Sprinkle with nutmeg, if desired.

Makes 16½ servings. Each serving contains 61 CALORIES; 5 grams protein; 1.5 grams fat; 5.5 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each serving would contain 110 CALORIES.

Try a Crunchy Ice Cream Pie

Try Chocolate Crunch Ice Cream Pie the next time you want an elegant dessert that is really quite simple to make. Make it early in the day and store it in your freezer until shortly before serving time. Remove it from the freezer a short time before serving to allow it to mellow and facilitate serving.

Even a beginner can be assured of success with this recipe. It's so simple to make. The chocolate syrup is poured over the oven-toasted rice cereal until the cereal is completely coated. Press the mixture into a buttered 9-inch piepan, fill with vanilla ice cream and presto, your pie is finished. For extra elegance, serve with praline sauce, which you can either make or purchase. This is but one exciting illustration of creative cookery with breakfast cereals. Breakfast cereals make contributions of protein, important B vitamins, essential minerals, and food energy, when used as a recipe ingredient.

Chocolate Crunch Ice Cream Pie With Praline Sauce

¼ cup light corn syrup
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons light brown sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 package (6 ounce) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups oven-toasted rice cereal
2 pints vanilla ice cream

Combine corn syrup, butter or margarine, sugar, and salt in saucepan. Bring to a boil over low heat, stirring until sugar dissolves. Remove from heat; add chocolate and vanilla, and stir until chocolate melts. Add to cereal; stir carefully until cereal is coated. Press evenly over bottom and sides of buttered 9-inch piepan. Chill. Fill with ice cream. Store in freezer. Serve with Praline Sauce. Yield: 1 9-inch pie.

Wine Cooler For Summer

A hostess who serves tall cool drinks to her summer guests, knows that there is quite a difference in tastes where sweetness is concerned. This is especially true of wine coolers—some like them refreshingly tart, others prefer to add sugar.

For everyone's enjoyment, it's a good plan to have a small pitcher of simple syrup made up in advance and chilled in the refrigerator. Use twopartssugarto the sugar is completely dissolved. Or, use honey, nature's own sweetner. It stirs into a cold beverage easily and adds a pleasant flavor of its own.

Chances are, a wine cooler made with California Port, mixed with an equal amount of sparkling water and poured over ice cubes in a tall glass, will be sweet enough for anyone. Port is a fruity dessert wine. The dry red or white wines, also often used in this way, sometimes call for extra sweetness.

These Eggs Going Creole

To be an artist with eggs you need only remember to cook them gently and season them well. A Creole Sauce, given its piquancy by Tabasco, the liquid red pepper seasoning which might have been invented just for eggs, transforms omelets and poached eggs into sophisticated dishes.

Although most people realize the importance of eggs in the diet, many people do not realize the versatility of eggs. They are wonderful breakfast food, but equally at home in luncheon or dinner menus, and they are real boons to the budget.

Tabasco Eggs Creole

2 English muffins, halved
4 eggs, poached
4 slices American cheese

Toast English muffins in broiler until lightly browned. Top each half with a slice of cheese; broil until cheese is melted. Top each with a poached egg; serve with Creole Sauce. Yield: 4 servings.

Creole Sauce

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup diced green pepper
1 can (1 pound) tomatoes
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar

Melt butter in saucepan; add onion and green pepper and cook until onion is tender, but not brown. Add remaining ingredients and simmer over low heat 30 minutes.
Yield: Approximately 2 cups.

Kappie's At Gold Rush Weight Guessing Contest

You're all invited to step up and guess the weight of a salami —The line forms to the right. In other words, "Kappie" Kaplan and his wife, Rose, new owners of Kappie's at the Gold Rush (located next to the Casa Mateo Inn in San Mateo), received a gift from the Kosher Zion Company of Chicago in the form of a jumbo size salami which inspired this idea of attracting new faces to the restaurant.

You may take your choice of stopping in and looking at the salami, or make a guess from the picture on this page. Just send your weight guess on a postcard to Kappie's at the Gold Rush.

The deadline is midnight of August 1. Salami weighing ceremonies are scheduled for Saturday, August 3, at high noon. It costs nothing to become a contestant and sounds like a lot of fun. The winner will receive the salami, plus a champagne steak dinner for two.

GUESS THE WEIGHT—Not that of cute Sandra Marsh, who is receiving contest instructions from "Kappie," but the weight of the salami. This guessing event will take place at Kappie's at the Gold Rush. With a prize like this at stake, there should be quite a "rush" on weightguessing.

ERWIN BEST, general manager of the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, has an important suggestion for you business men: A "Package Plan for Entertaining," service in your suite, or conference room. The beverage department will supply liquor, hors d'oeuvres, glasses, ice, and whatever else you need. You "pay for what you use." . . . Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy drew one of the season's largest crowds to their Fairmont Hotel opening, last night. Show is great! Ditto, Ernie Heckscher's recording orchestra which backs the bill . . . Sunday, July 21, "last call for dinner" at Guido and Joe Selmi's J and G Restaurant for a short vacation time. The restaurant section will reopen around the middle of August . . . Authentic Spanish foods are a rare treat when prepared old country style — and that's just what you find when visiting Estrada's located at 7440 Mission Street in Daly City.

SEAFOOD SELECTIONS on A Sabella's San Francisco Capri Room menu are indeed special. Many original creations by Lucien Sabella, who acquired his culinary know-how during his apprentice years in his father's restaurant . . . Piccadilly's chef Ted Newburg is receiving dining room compliments galore on his tasty dishes served during both luncheon and dinner . . . Eight birthday candles on the "cake" at Bill Mallory's Schlegel's restaurant in Burlingame. Needless to say, William baked his own cake —and ate some, too . . . Still not too late to pack your bags for a Triple S Ranch vacation. Located just a one-hour ride from the Bay Area on Petrified Forest Road in the Calistoga territory . . . Spent a wonderful sunny Sunday in the vicinity of San Jose, which included breakfast at Uncle John's Pancake House, natch, and dinner at the Almaden Cafe del Rio. And if that's not a winning "daily double" there never was one.

DON'T KNOW WHERE you plan to spend your vacation, but judging from the throngs who flocked to Lake Tahoe, Nevada, last weekend, and Barney's Casino on South Shore, methinks just about every fun lovin's body from miles around was on hand. The tentertainment spots were jam packed. You almost had to have a "reservation" to get to the slot machines, crap and blackjack tables at Barney OMalia's foresightedness, this winter, paid off—his new second level dedicated to Keno players was in full swing. Plenty of comfortable chairs for participants. . . . Arpad d'Zurko, the dashing gypsy violinist at Villa Chartier, proved to be a very adept interviewee on the Owen Spann show over KGO, recently. The troubadour chatted on for more than 15 minutes about gypsy tribes and customs, not neglecting to mention the fine food at the Villa Chartier. . . . Looking for something new and different in the way of lunch? Then try Walter's in Redwood City, which is now serving luncheon Tuesday through Saturday (in addition to its delicious dinners daily, except Monday).

Late afternoon dancing starts at Nick's in Pacifica (Sundays only) at 4 p.m. and continues 'til 2 a.m. Music is provided by Verna Wales at the organ, and some of the greatest bands in the country, via ye ole juke box. The 3 Beats front the bandstand, with Mary Ann Hay on vocals, Friday and Saturday evenings.

Being a little "dessert happy," I'll let you in on one of my secret "weight vices:" Pound cake, chocolate syrup and ice cream combination served at the Original New Southern restaurant.

One of the top steak dinners is the Culotte Pepper Steak for two, stuffed with cheese, served flambe, at Phil Lehr's downtown Steakery, San Francisco.

Take out salad dressing at the San Francisco New Tivoli restaurant is called "I-Lov-It" (New Tivoli spelled backwards) —and you will love it.

Latest golf addict on the long list of restaurateurs is Bruno Scatena, who holds the "master key" to Joe's of Westlake. Give him a few months and you can bet he won't need an IBM machine to total the score.

The Brentwood Lodge is the mecca for gourmets. Here, in this beautiful restaurant, folks gather from all over the Bay Area. John Graziano and Victor Scafani are perfect hosts. Also banquet facilities.

Just to what extent Finocchio's new show is a show folks' show as much as it is a favorite with the general public was demonstrated the other evening when the unique San Francisco club was all but filled with members of the casts of three different big shows. Predominant was the group of 50 or more members of "Ice Follies." On the same night the whole casts of "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" and "Milk and Honey" were present to join in in giving the clever female impersonators such applause as could be classified as ovations.

Romano's Sports The "New Look"

The exterior "new look" has arrived at Enrico Romano's Pacifica restaurant. You really have to see it to get the full impact. After recently redecorating the interior of his homey eatery, it now resembles a picture out of an Italian restaurant magazine—with food to match.

The parking area in front of the Mountain View Caravan Inn has recently resembled the Rector Motor car lot—what with Cadillacs galore parked side by side and a few Rolls Royces spotted here and there. General manager Betty Sedam credits this abundance to the following of the Caravan's new pianist, Bob Bellows, a handsome gent whose musical renditions and vocals appeal to both male and "swooning" females.

Chicken Operation Attracts Attention

Many B.T.C.O.'s (big time chicken operators) are visiting Keith's "Chicken Oasis" in Burlingame—some to ask questions and many to watch the operation. Through it all, Keith Williamson tends to cooking duties —with capacity restaurant business resulting, both dining room and take out. No more news on his franchise deal, but predict it will go through.

When it comes to fancy Mexican dishes, Horkey's in Belmont and Palo Alto are tops. Do love the beans here. You might say I was a "Peon Gourmet." A good pot of beans is a rare dish these "full course dinner" days.

Tina and John Paskaleff operate the 255 B Street Tip Top restaurant under the "food for the entire family" banner. Open 24 hours, seven days a week. Food and prices are made to orderfor those who enjoy the best for less.

Seen chatting over cocktails at George Mardikian's famous Omar Khayyam's restaurant were local teen-age idol Dick Stewart and movie actress Ann Margret.

Band for band, Joe Stenger's orchestra at the Pioneer Hotel well rates the many raves received during their Friday and Saturday night sessions.

Sinaloa's Nylda, the dancing "Darling of El Salvador," is back on the job after being absent a few days due to family illness.

Vince's Restaurant Set For July 30 Reopening

VINCE'S ITALIAN AND SEA FOODS, one of the most popular restaurants on the Peninsula, is having a "face lifting" and the restaurant is not open during the redecorating and remodeling. However, those who make this their seafood headquarters won't have to wait long for the front doors to swing both ways again. Come Tuesday, July 30, the "Open for Business" sign will go up. Although there will be numerous changes in the decor, the menu will remain at its selective best (in eatin' words: food-tops). The Fish Market is open, as usual; ample parking space to park and shop. . . . Charming Arline Morris is featured this summer, along with Billy Catalano's Orchestra, at Forest Lake Resort in Lake county. After enjoying the vacation months in California, Arline will take off for the Eastern circuit and Las Vegas during the year's end. . . . Frank Torres' Montara Beach Resort is what you would call a "family restaurant operation." Seems everytime he or his wife, Fannie, take a trip to their homeland of Peru, they sponsor a relative, or two, in the U.S.A.

Arline Morris

Al Dote and The Kingsmen are now on their Third year bandstanding at Milt Tonini's Princeton Inn. Looks like Milt has decided to give them a steady job.

Twisted Juniper Is Plant of Week

Juniperus chinensis torulosa, the 'Twisted Juniper' which is sometimes referred to as the "Hollywood" juniper is The Times Plant of the Week. Our inspirational plant is growing at the front entrance to the A. L. Hamilton home, Summit drive, Hillsborough.

The junipers comprise a very large group of shrubs and trees of the pine family. They vary in habit from low, prostrate shrubs to tall, slender trees. They are a hardy and very ornamental group that have proven themselves to be extremely useful ni a number of diversified ways in the modern garden.

Junipers have two types of leaves: needle shaped, usually borne in threes, and small scale-like leaves that are opposite and pressed close to the twigs. On young plants and vigorous branches the needle-shaped leaves usually predominate, while the scaly leaves are more characteristic of the adult plant. On older plants, howver, both types of leaves are often found together and many species retain their needle - like leaves are spreading and sharply pointed while the scale-like leaves are rather blunt and closely appressed, appearing as tufts of bright green.

This juniper naturall develops several erect stems that are so devious in their manner of growth that they give the plant a most unique and ornamental appearance. This plant should never be staked nor trimmed to a single stem as its beauty lies in its natural growth. Use a similar but more erect plant for the narrow places. This juniper can be pruned to keep it within bounds but the pruning should foster, not alter its habit of growth.

Juniper chinensis torulosa can be grown as a pot plant as well as a garden specimen. It will reach a height of from 10 to 15 feet over a period of years. It is very easy to grow, if you do not pamper it. It prefers a well-drained soil slightly on the lean side. It has few problems but it occasionally subject to scale and webworm. Use a miscible oil spray for the scale if it is close to the house. Follow the directions on the can carefully and after the spraying is finished shake the plant hard to rid it of any excess oil. Dormant lime sulphur spray is less dangerous to use for this pest but it leaves a dirty brown stain on painted walls. DDT or lead arsenate will clean up the worms.

Perennials Are Vital in Garden

By IVA NEWMAN

Perennials fill so many needs in the average home garden that they have earned the title of "Indispensable." There isn't a week in the year when some perennial isn't in bloom. They are so dependable and include such a wide variety of plants that we can't recall ever being in a garden without seeing at least two or three of these useful items.

Technically, a perennial is a plant that lives for more than two full years. If we stayed technical we could call trees, shrubs and vines woody perennials and such plants as dahlias, daffodils and etc., bulbous perennials. But we, like most other gardeners, think of a perennial as a herbaceous plant that does not have a permanent or woody stem and one that usually dies down during som part of the year. The so-called "hardy" perennials are usually thought of as those that survive heavy frost and tender perennials as those that must be protected from frost.

Perennials have so many uses in the garden. They are used as fillers between trees and shrubs until these plants get large enough to fill their alloted space. They are excellent as ground covers, erosion control plants, screens, and cut flowers. In this latter category the blooms are used for color and the foliage for texture in arrangements. Their most valuable contribution is an extremely long and continuous flowering season in the garden. With a careful collection of varieties one can have flowers from perennial plants every day of the year.

Need Care

A persistant and wide - spread belief that perennials, once they are planted, will take care of themselves with little or no help from the gardener is far from the truth. Some, it is true, will persist for years even though they are neglected but this is not the rule. Some, like the herbaceous peony are better left undisturbed year after year while other fine members of this group such as the chrysanthemum, need a fresh start from cuttings or root division each year. Some need a little petting to keep them going and others are so rambunctious that they will take over the garden unless they are restrained. All of them need water, a little fertilizer, some type of protection from insects and disease, and the spent flowers removed in order to keep them lovely and productive.

A perennial border is one of the most beautiful of all plantings. We saw some very nice ones in Canada two years ago but when we spoke of them we were told that the perennial border reaches its height of perfection in England. We hope to see some of these renowned borders this year while we are visiting the gardens of Europe. A good perennial border always starts with a paper plan drawn to scale otherwise we are tempted to give too much room to some plants and not enough to other and usually end up by tucking plants in here and there without due care for heights, spread or color.

Most of us who grow perennials in this area use them as a part of the general garden and not in a border devoted exclusively to their use. We tuck the shade-loving perennials, such as violets, English primroses and the helleborus in among the rhododendrons, camellias, and azaleas and the sun-loving things in any open space where we think they will get the right exposure. While this method doesn't make a picturesque border it does develop some pretty nice plants and flowers.

Tall Delphiniums

One of our finest tall-growing perennials is the delphinium, developed to its highest degree by Frank Reinelt, Vetterle and Reinelt Nursery, Santa Cruz. From spindly stemmed wildlings, Reinelt has produced a whole series of sturdy-stemmed plants with lovely individual blooms that range in color through the blues to pink and pure white. These big hybrids should have a two-foot square of space to start as they throw out a huge rosette of leaves to support the five to eight-foot flowering stalks.

We like to grow our own delphinium plants from seed. This way we can have a great number of plants at little cost and very little work. The latter half of July and the first half of August is the ideal time to sow delphinium seed. They germinate better and produce sturdier plants from freshly harvested seed and seed from the current season is available at this time.

HOME & GARDEN

Dahlias Add Quick Color

As the warm weather reaches its peak, there is often need for replanting a bare corner of the garden to replace earlier blooming material. Many plants will come to mind for hot weather planting and we would like to suggest a top favorite, the dwarf dahlia, which is available at this time of yeara s fully developed plants in nursery flats.

Quick color and abundant coverage are two good features of this type dahlia plus its "take hold" ability even in a full state of development. Such willingness to grow makes it possible to plant dwarf seedling dahlias in full bloom and have them give immediate color that will continue on until well into fall.

Dwarf dahlias take full sun and prefer a loose well-drained soil for best results. With a full color range excepting the blue shades, they are best planted in mass beds with solid color borders of dwarf marigolds, dwarf celosia, dwarf petunias, or dwarf ageratum. These plants, also available in bloom, exhibit the same fine "take hold" qualities and share the cultural requirements of the dwarf dahlias.

The growth of dwarf dahlias is tidy enough to make them ideal for use in narrow beds of 18 inches or more in width or for planting against a house or wall. In such cramped quarters a border planting should not be used as the dahlias will crowd out the lower drowing border plants.

Dwarf dahlias do well in pots and can be used as an inexpensive indoor blooming house plant for periods of up to two weeks. Similarly they are useful for patio planters or other conditions where soil volume is limited and cultivation is at a minimum.

WE'RE SEARCHING THE PENINSULA AREA FOR A MAN
Frankly, it may take months to find him. But we're willing to wait . . . the opportunity is that important.

Here's a quick "profile" of the person we're looking for. Chances are he's between 28 and 40. Education . . . college or equivalent. In all likelihood, he's now in a junior-executive position . . . well liked . . . making good progress. But he has a problem. He knows he's capable of doing better . . . feels "trapped" by a salary structure which is good, but not good enough.

If you fit this general description, we'd be happy to talk to you about this salaried opening in our organization. It may require several interviews . . . will certainly require exhaustive tests. But should you turn out to be the man we are looking for . . . we can promise it will be well worth your time and trouble.

To pursue the matter further, write us a letter outlining your business experience, age, marital status.

We'll contact you and arrange a meeting.
